reorganization of monarchist youth groups is proceeding rapidly under the control and orientation of the monarchist group favoring Don Juan. Reportedly, efforts are being made to contact the leaders of the traditionalist youth group in an attempt to draw that group into the "Donjuanista" youth movement.

20. The "Donjuanistas", aware of the prestige enjoyed by Jose Maria Valiente among traditionalist youth, base their hopes of drawing the traditionalists into the Don Juan camp on a report that recently Valiente quarreled violently with Manuel Fal Conde, one of the leading traditionalists. [REDACTED] Valiente's quarrel with Fal Conde had its origin in a trip made by the former to London and Lisbon. After conversations held in the course of his trip with Eugenio Vegas Latapie, with Saez Rodriguez and with Don Juan himself as well as with the Queen Mother, Valiente became convinced that the only possible course for Spain lies in a restoration of the monarchy personified in Don Juan.

3. Reportedly, the "Don Juanistas" are rallying around Valiente and trying to convince the traditionalist youths that if Don Juan becomes king they will not be considered merely as traditionalist monarchists but will be accorded the same honors as any active Don Juan monarchist.

4. [REDACTED] the first contacts made in the direction of accord were not very successful. Jose Luis Zamanillo, Jaurrieta, and other traditionalist leaders, were opposed to this course. However, in conversations held 4 February 1947 the support was obtained of other important figures in the traditionalist youth movement.
